

Electronic Health Records Smartphone and Wireless Providers

Innovative services require innovative devices for picture, text, data and voice collaboration

September 2006

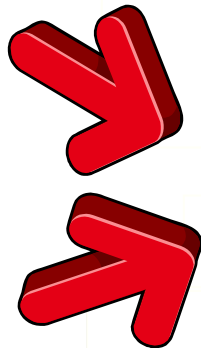

- The Tolven value proposition
 - Accelerate global Smartphone adoption and wireless network utilization
 - Improve market positioning
 - Catalysts for business excellence

Accelerate Global Smartphone Adoption and Wireless Network Utilization

Promote the worldwide adoption of the Smartphone as the most convenient method of engaging with healthcare services

• Enables

- ePHR*
- eCHR
- Alerts
- Reminders
- Warnings
- Consultations
- Collaboration
- Wellness information

• Drives

- Handset upgrades
- User adoption
 - clinicians
 - consumers
- Healthcare
 - quality
 - accessibility
- GPRS data transfer
- SMS messaging

Real-time access to healthcare data for tens of millions of providers and consumers will improve outcomes and ultimately save lives

Accelerate Global Smartphone Adoption and Wireless Network Utilization

- Establish the Smartphone as a proven device for making healthcare records available ubiquitously to consumers, providers and emergency services
- Evidence the value of healthcare information being available at the in real-time and right place
- Promote electronic health record solutions as a mechanism to improve consumer wellness

Catalysts for Business Excellence

- Why open source
 - provides unprecedented speed to market and flexibility
 - facilitates the rapid adoption of new technologies and devices
 - low cost of ownership
- Why Tolven
 - first true open source healthcare platform and applications
 - innovative consumer and clinician collaboration business model
 - uniquely positioned in the global market to secure large scale projects